TV and Radio Personality Ryan Seacrest to Host Live from Los Angeles

David Beckham, Luke Bryan, Common, Florida Georgia Line, Mike Holmes, Lea Michele, and Meghan Trainor Among Celebrities Scheduled to Make Special Appearances

Los Angeles, CA (July 07, 2015) – KNOCK KNOCK LIVE, this summer’s LIVE, can’t-miss, life-changing television event, has tapped country superstar Kellie Pickler, actress and singer Adrienne Bailon, TV host Ross Mathews, host and recording artist Jordan “Shorty” Johnson and TV/radio personality Chuey Martinez as co-hosts. The weekly series will feature host Ryan Seacrest live in a Los Angeles-based studio, while his team – Pickler, Bailon, Mathews, Johnson and Martinez – travel across America, arriving at unsuspecting people’s doorsteps with a chance to win big prizes, turn their wildest dreams into reality and even meet their favorite celebrities including David Beckham, Luke Bryan, Common, Florida Georgia Line, Mike Holmes, Lea Michele, Meghan Trainor and many more. KNOCK KNOCK LIVE premieres Tuesday, July 21 (9:00-10:00 PM ET live/PT tape-delayed) on FOX.

The co-hosts are:

Kellie Pickler

Kellie Pickler won the hearts of television viewers as a contestant on the fifth season of AMERICAN IDOL. In 2006, she signed with Sony Records and released her debut album, “Small Town Girl,” which produced three hit singles. In 2008, she released her self-titled sophomore record and in 2011, her third studio album, “100 Proof,” was named the No. 1 Country Album of The Year by Rolling Stone. In 2013, Pickler won the mirror ball trophy when she partnered with dance pro Derek Hough on Season 16 of “Dancing with the Stars.” Later that year, she released her fourth album, “The Woman I Am.” Currently, she and her husband, songwriter/producer Kyle Jacobs, are filming the upcoming cable reality series “I Love Kellie Pickler,” which will air later this year.

Adrienne Bailon

Adrienne Bailon was born in New York City and first stepped into the spotlight in 1999, when she was tapped as the lead singer of multi-Platinum R&B girl group, 3LW. She then went on to become a founding member of the pop group The Cheetah Girls, which sparked multiple cable television movies, a world tour and numerous merchandising deals. Bailon's acting credits include "That's So Raven," "Buffalo Dreams," "All You've Got," "Coach Carter," "Lovestruck" and "I'm in Love with a Church Girl." Additionally, she appeared on her own reality show, "Empire Girls," and is currently a co-host on the syndicated daytime talk show, "The Real."

Ross Mathews

Ross Mathews won the hearts of millions of Americans during his television debut – as a correspondent for "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno." Since then he has become a national bestselling author, and a fixture on entertainment television. He can currently be seen doing live red carpet award show coverage year-round. He recently hosted "Live From E!" and his own weekly celebrity gossip and entertainment series, "Hello Ross." He currently can be seen as a judge on "RuPaul's Drag Race," and can be heard weekly on his podcast, "Straight Talk with Ross Mathews."

Jordan "Shorty" Johnson

Born and raised in St. Louis, MO, Jordan "Shorty" Johnson hosted his own Saturday morning radio show when he was only 12 years old. A few years later, he was hired as a full-time night jock at the city's No. 1 radio station, 100.3 The Beat, and also had a No. 1 record in St. Louis, "Wah Wah Wow." In 2012, Johnson was selected as a co-host on the music video countdown show "106 and Park." He is also signed as a recording artist on Warner Bros./Atlantic Records. Shorty currently has the #1 radio shows on two Radio-One stations, 93.9 WKYS in Washington DC and HOT 104.1 in St. Louis.

Chuey Martinez

Chuey Martinez is no stranger to the spotlight. He grew up in East Los Angeles, and launched his entertainment career at the age of 16. Nine years later, he joined iHeartRadio, Sirius XM and L.A.'s No. 1 music station, 102.7 KIIS FM, as on-air talent. In 2012, he was tapped as the host of the cable series "All You Can Meat." He also is forming his own production company, "Chumongous Productions," for the development of film, TV, digital and music projects.
